Profile

I'm a self-taught front-end developer. I've always had a deep interest in web development and have spent countless hours devouring online resources and YouTube tutorials to perfect my skills.

I've created several small projects on my Codepen page 🔗 using HTML & CSS, and I'm constantly seeking out new technologies and techniques to elevate my work to the next level. My passion for web development drives me to always learn and grow in my craft.

I'm looking for a long-term job position to continue learning and growing.
